Welcome

Every conversation is a chance to understand each other a little better.

These cards invite you to explore curiosity, desires, boundaries, and connection—at your own pace.

Take turns asking and listening. There are no right answers, and nothing to prove. You can pass, pause, or return to any question.

Sharing a desire is not permission to act on it. Consent is ongoing, freely given, and can change at any time.

Let curiosity lead, and respect set the pace.

Consent Harbour WELCOME

Deeper Conversations

Consent Comes First

A shared interest, fantasy, or answer is not permission to act.

Ask before trying something. Consent must be freely given, without pressure, and can change at any time.

You can say no, unsure, not now, or stop—even if you said yes before. No explanation is required.

Silence is not agreement. If you're unsure, pause and check in. If either person says stop, stop.

Your connection matters more than completing a card.

Conversation guide & printing instructions

Print and cut

Print pages 1–7 on US Letter (8.5 × 11 inches), single-sided, at Actual size / 100%. Each card is 2.5 × 3.5 inches. Ordinary paper works; cardstock is optional. Cut along the dashed guides. Page 7 contains four blank Our Question cards; the rest of that sheet is intentionally empty. This guide is page 8.

Start with each other

Choose a comfortable, private moment when you both feel ready to talk. Read the welcome and consent reminder cards together. There is no winning, scoring, or required number of questions.

Prepare your deck

Set aside the welcome card, consent reminder and unused blank cards. Shuffle the 52 question cards and place them question-side down. If you also have Exploring Together, you can choose either deck or mix them; neither is a required next level.

Draw and discuss

Take turns drawing and reading one question aloud. Both people may answer; the person drawing may begin or invite their partner first. Listen without interrupting, allow time to think, and ask follow-up questions with curiosity. You do not have to agree or reach a decision.

Pass, pause, or stop

Either person may skip a question, say “unsure,” or revisit it another time. No explanation is required. Either person can pause or end the conversation. Resume only when both want to.

Keep consent clear

An answer, shared interest or fantasy is not permission to act. Consent must be freely given, without pressure, and can change. A previous yes does not replace a current check-in. Silence is not agreement.

Make it your own

Use the four Our Question cards to write your own prompts. Once written, shuffle them into the deck or discuss them separately.

Finish with care

Ask how each of you is feeling, whether anything needs revisiting, and whether you want closeness, reassurance or quiet time. Stop after one card or continue while you both enjoy the conversation.

Your connection matters more than completing a card.
